

February 2023

After a tough bracket with incredibly talented candidates, Chris May advanced to the finals to become RCCF's new Executive Director. He officially joins the starting lineup of Team RCCF on Monday, February 13. Chris is no stranger to Rush County or leading a team. He is a 2000 RCHS grad and the former Executive Director of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame.

Lisa, we'd love to see you at RCCF's home court - 117 N Main Street in Rushville - on Thursday, February 23 anytime from 10:00 AM – 5:30 PM to cheer on and connect with Chris. Stop by for a 3-point conversion - cookies, community, and conversation!

And speaking of the home team. Sending all our best to the RCHS Lady Lions as they head to Regionals this weekend. A win would be awesome, but you've already made us so proud!

Donor Spotlight: The Deep Roots of the Liggett Family

In the yard of the Liggett Family's farm stands an impressive maple tree. Its thick trunk separates into many branches, growing both tall and wide. No doubt its roots run deep, too, just as the Liggetts' do in the Rush County community. It's here, at Windmill Farm, where Marion and Lois Liggett built a life raising their three children, serving their community, and spending 64 years together. With a recent gift to the Rush County Community Foundation (RCCF), Lois has honored their ties forever by establishing the Marion & Lois Liggett and Family Educational Scholarship Fund.

Grantee Update: FACS + First5

Two observations come to mind when stepping into Jill Carmony's Family and Consumer Sciences (FACS) class at Rushville Consolidated High School (RCHS). As expected, it smells amazing (from the pretzels baked by the previous class), but also, this isn't the Home Ec class that those over a certain age remember. In 1994 a shift occurred nationwide to expand subjects beyond traditional homemaking roles. Today's topics include education, personal finance, interior design, textiles and fashion, culinary arts, nutrition, health and wellness, and child development.

Jeri McCorkle, director of First5 Rush County's Early Learning Coalition, saw an opportunity for another shift in Carmony's Advanced Child Development (ACD) course. She is using this new partnership to expand the reach of her message while addressing the dire need for more high-quality early learning in the community.

Grantee Update: Rush County Farm Bureau

In the fall of 2021 Rush County Farm Bureau received a $300 grant from the Rita Yager Memorial Ag Fund toward the Sunflower House project supplies and classroom books. The program taught Rush County youth, including all 2nd graders, about growing sunflowers and their many uses. The book, Sunflower House by Eve Bunting was used to help spark interest in growing their own plants. Children snacked on various sunflower snacks and will receive seeds to plant this spring.
